Colonial Capital Humane Society

Colonial Capital Humane Society (CCHS) is a nonprofit 501(c)3 organization run entirely by volunteers. We grew from a shared commitment to providing a no-kill sanctuary for abandoned and stray cats and dogs. Through our partnership with caring veterinarians, the animals we rescue are spayed or neutered to help curb overpopulation; they are given all required vaccinations; and they are treated for any medical problems. Dogs that come to us go out to foster care, and the cats live cage free in our shelter. Volunteers come twice daily to provide fresh water and food, clean the litterboxes, and offer companionship and love as the cats await adoption.

We invite you to join us in our rescue efforts—by becoming a member; by making a donation to help pay for medical care, utilities, pet food, cat litter, supplies, repairs, and other costs; by volunteering with CCHS; and/or becoming a foster parent. (There is a separate application for foster parents at www.colonialcapital.org.) Members receive our quarterly newsletter, AnimalLetter, with updates on our work.
